Digital planning systems for brains that work differently

An 8-page printable system — US Letter, print at home

BRAMBLE & BRAIN CO.

How This Works

This isn't a planner you have to earn your way into using correctly. There's no wrong way to start — here's the short version.

- 1 Start with the Weekly page
 Pick 3 priorities, max. More than that isn't a plan — it's a wish list.
- 2 Fill out a Daily page each day
 Whenever your day actually starts. There's no rule that it has to be morning.
- 3 Having a hard day? Flip to Low-Spoons Mode
 That's not giving up — that's the system doing exactly what it's for.
- 4 Actually use the Dopamine Menu
 It's not decoration. Reward the effort, not just the finished result.
- 5 Missed a day on the Habit Tracker?
 Leave the square blank and move on. There are no shame boxes in this system.

Quick Legend

-  A pick-one scale, like energy check-ins — circle the number that fits.
-  A small, doable action — check it off when it's done, however small.
-  Open space — write whatever's actually true, not what sounds impressive.

Print single-sided or double-sided — US Letter (8.5" × 11"), fits any standard home printer.

Brain Dump

Get it out of your head and onto the page

One kind thing I'll do for myself today:

Dopamine Menu

Fuel, not an afterthought.

Motivation isn't a personality trait — it's fuel. Pick a reward before you start, not after you're already burnt out.

SMALL

2 minutes

favorite song · stretch · text a friend

MEDIUM

15–30 minutes

an episode · walk outside · a snack you actually like

BIG

save for real wins

that thing you've been eyeing · a lazy afternoon · dinner out

Reward Tracker — 4 Weeks

Mark a box each day you followed through — no matter how small

Habit Tracker

Pick 3–5 habits, max. This isn’t about a perfect streak — it’s about noticing your own patterns.

	1	5	10	15	20	25	30

A blank circle isn’t a failure — it’s just a blank circle. Fill in what you did, skip what you didn’t.

Low-Spoons Mode

For the days that are just... a lot.

You don't need the whole system today. Just this page.

The ONLY things that matter today

Three, at most

Bare-Minimum Self-Care

- ☐ Water
- ☐ One real meal
- ☐ Meds, if that's part of your day
- ☐ Rest or lie down for a bit
- ☐ One message to someone, if you need it

Rest is not falling behind.

Tomorrow's system will still be here when you're ready for it.

Medication & Symptom Tracker

This is for your own pattern-spotting — not for anyone to grade you on.
